Total Station

Art no 230137

Our Total Station backpack is a high-quality and stable backpack for GPS and GNSS instruments with accessories.

The backpack fits the most commonly used total stations currently on the market. The backpack protects the instruments during transport and is simple and comfortable to wear on the back, as well as ergonomically designed for heavy carrying.

The bag is made in the material CORDURA®, which consists of high-strength and textured polyamide 6.6 filaments, designed to withstand the harshest environments and built to last with its superior wear-resistant performance.
